

8

Plate repositioning progress can be monitored from the following four prompts.

Indicates the image acquisition process at the highest level

Points to the directory where the acquired files are being saved

Indicates process that AcTrM is engaged in at that instance

Provides the number of the image set that is being acquired and the total number of image sets that will be acquired